

Internal Application To Ph.D. Program

Part I: The internal applicant should complete this section and then submit the application to the Departmental Graduate Coordinator for consideration by the Graduate Admissions Committee. Include with this application your statement purpose describing your academic interest for your Ph.D. research (2 pages max) and your report on the progress toward the completion of the Master's requirements. In addition, the current Master's thesis supervisor must complete the attached evaluation form and send it separately to the Graduate Coordinator. A letter of endorsement from the perspective Ph.D. Dissertation supervisor must be provided as well. If the Master's supervisor and the Ph.D. supervisor is the same person, the endorsement can be provided on the evaluation form.

- A. State your prospective Ph.D. Dissertation Supervisor: _____
- B. Has your prospective Ph.D. Dissertation Supervisor agreed to serve as your advisor?
Yes: _____ No: _____
- C. Do you require financial aid? Yes: _____ No: _____

Part II: The Graduate Admissions Committee will evaluate the application after the student has completed all of his/her Master's requirements. A decision to admission is made based on the qualification of the application and the availability of a faculty member to serve as the Ph.D. Dissertation Supervisor.

Graduate Admissions Committee Recommendation (check one):

- Admitted with Funding (contract)
- Admitted without Funding
- Not Admitted

Comments:

Signature: _____
Chair of Graduate Admissions Committee