Georgia Southern University – one-year faculty position

We have had a late resignation from our geography faculty and need to fill the position on a full-time basis for the coming year. I would like to have someone who could teach our Weather and Climate course and an introductory level GIS course. However, I would be happy to consider applicants with other backgrounds. ABDs are also welcome to apply.

Although this is a one-year position, I believe that we will conduct a search for a tenure-track replacement next year. The temporary person would certainly be eligible to apply for the permanent position.

Please forward this to any likely candidates. Thank you for your time and assistance.

24 months fixed term - Part Time - 28 hours a week

Salary £24,063 - £26,793 per annum

REF:09216/SW

An enthusiastic qualitative researcher is required to join the research team of the Leverhulme Trust-funded project "Place, Culture and Film: An Investigation of Migrants" Health Making Practices. This study is examining the cultural transformation of health knowledge and practices among minority and international migrant groups in a diverse London Borough using interview and visual methodology. The PDRA will be involved in all aspects of the research, including: recruitment, data collection and analysis; post-production film editing and dissemination activities; and management of project records. Training in visual methodology will be provided if required. The successful candidate will have completed a PhD in the Social Sciences or Humanities using qualitative methods, have excellent organisational and communication skills and preferably have experience of working with BME groups and one or more years postdoctoral research experience. The post is based in the Department of Geography, Queen Mary, University of London, with fieldwork conducted in the London Borough of Greenwich.

It is anticipated the successful candidate will be in post by 01 September, 2009.

Salary will be within the range of £24,063 - £26,793 per annum (pro rata to £30,079 - £33,492, full time equivalent) inclusive of London Allowance, depending on skills and experience.

Benefits include 30 days annual leave (pro rata), plus 4 College closure days, an interest free season ticket loan, child care salary sacrifice scheme and a contributory, final salary pension scheme.

The research is directed by Professor Isabel Dyck. Please contact for informal discussion of the post on 020 7882 5416 or by email: i.dyck@qmul.ac.uk

Further details of the post and an application form can be found at: www.hr.qmul.ac.uk/vacancies/academic/

Applications including a covering letter, CV and College Application Form should be sent to: Isabel Dyck, Department of Geography, Queen Mary, University of London, Mile End Road, London, E1 4NS.

National Research Council of the National Academies - graduate, postdoctoral and senior researcher awards

As you may know, the National Research Council of the National Academies sponsors a number of awards for graduate, postdoctoral and senior researchers at federal laboratories. These awards provide generous stipends ($42,000 - $74,000 per year for recent Ph.D. recipients and higher for additional experience), and the opportunity to do independent research in some of the best-equipped and staffed laboratories in the U.S. Research opportunities are open to U.S. citizens, permanent residents, and for some of the laboratories, foreign nationals.

We ask your assistance in informing students and faculty in your department of these opportunities by copying this message to each one.

Detailed program information, including instructions on how to apply online and a list of participating laboratories, is available on the NRC Research Associateship Programs Web site at:

www.national-academies.org/rap

Questions should be directed to the NRC at 202-334-2760 (phone) or rap@nas.edu.

There will be four review cycles annually. Upcoming deadline dates are:

August 1, 2009

November 1, 2009

February 1, 2010

May 1, 2010

Applicants should begin a dialogue with prospective Advisers at the lab as early as possible, before their anticipated application deadline.
